SCHOLARSHIPS FOR:

Specialization course "Foreign trade management" (e-learning)

Dates
Start: May 8
End: June 17
Number of scholarships offered: 5

The objectives of the specialization course "Foreign trade management" are to understand:

- The different types of documents used in international trade (import and export), which documents are usually required by customs, the requirements for various documents and how to fill in these documents correctly.
- The responsibilities of the exporter and importer under Incoterms 2010 and how Incoterms are used in International trade transactions.
- The role and functioning of customs and the role of a customs agent.
- The different customs procedures, methods of products classification and learn to complete the customs documents. To understand the role of the World Customs Organization and the World Trade Organization.

Course "Foreign trade management" - Syllabus:
1. Incoterms
2. Import export documents
3. Customs Procedures
4. World Customs Organization
5. Customs and the World Trade Organization
6. Case study:
   - Customs of China
   - European Union - Turkey Customs Union

The materials are available in four languages: English, Spanish, French or Portuguese and are accessible to all students wishing to review them in whatever language and use one of the four languages to complete the exercises.

All selected participants will be exempt from course fees, and will receive the course by the EENI virtual campus.

Applications must be submitted by email (info@reingexeeni.edu.es) no later than April 25.